

Gennady Stolyarov II

Gennady Stolyarov II has run casually since 2000, but it was through Desert Sky Adventures that he began to enter official running races beginning in 2016, inspired by the examples of ultramarathoners such as Molly Sheridan and Bill Andrews. Since that time he has run in most races in Northern Nevada, including every Desert Sky Adventures race since March 2017. His first official ultramarathon was a Desert Sky Adventures event – the 6-hour, 33-mile Battle Born Trail Series Run at Bartley Ranch on May 6, 2018. Since then he has also completed the Silver State 50K on May 19, 2018, and the Bizz Johnson Trail 50K on October 7, 2018. Gennady Stolyarov II is known worldwide as a leader in the transhumanist movement, which advocates for longevity, health, and self-improvement; he considers running to be one of the best available activities for large numbers of people to pursue those goals from any starting point.

